Description	Has anyone gotten Chirp to work on the Seniton ST-260 (sometimes called the Hesenate ST-260)? I bought it through Amazon but they no longer carry it. The only link to it that I can find is this one, if that helps anyone recognize it. http://www.sears.com/hesenate-st-260-kid-s-walkie-talkie-uhf-400-470mhz/p-SPM15167280424

History

#2 - 09/11/2020 05:57 pm - Bernhard Hailer

- Status changed from New to Feedback
- Target version set to chirp-daily

Couldn't find any input about Seniton. The Hesenate model can be found (handheld, UHF, 16 channels). Did you try to use Chirp on it with the Baofeng BF-888 driver? Perhaps that will work. Let us know.
