| Subject: | Yaesu FT-8800 Banks no programming on RH side | | |
| Description | Using Chirp 0.4.0, trying to load bank selections for the RH side VFO and not the left. Save .img file and re-open it populates the LH side .img file as the RH side (bank-wise). Started with a clean sheet with 6 frequencies on LH side and 7 frequencies on the RH side. Go to banks(RH) and select which frequencies to desired banks. Go to banks(LH) and NO banks are selected. UPLOAD [Clean Slate UL01] Radio does not recognize the banks on either LH or RH side. Close out [Clean Slate UL01] File. Re-open [Clean Slate UL01] file. Banks no longer selected in sheets. DOWNLOAD [Clean Slate DL01] No banks selected in sheet. Copied [Clean Slate UL01] to [Clean Slate UL02] Go to banks(LH) and select which frequencies to desired banks. Go to banks(RH) and NO banks are selected. UPLOAD [Clean Slate UL02] Radio LH side matched [Clean Slate 02]. Radio RH side had no banks. Cannot seem to use Chirp to program banks on RH side VFO. | | |

Chirp 0.4.0 is really old. I suggest updating to the "daily versions".

They can be found for Windows/Mac/Linux at the download page <https://chirp.danplanet.com/projects/chirp/wiki/Download>

I was using daily build 20190829, and I simply copied the bug report that was identical in behavior. Since it was 0% complete, I figured no one had looked at this since.
